New Water Well For Village Said To Be A Gusher

Engineer Expects Output To Be 800 Gallons A Minute

Antioch's new water well came in a gusher Friday. Eight hundred gallons a minute were pumped yesterday by the Layne-Western Co., driller, in a test, and the water is of good taste and quality.

Situated east of the Soo Line track on village property the well was sunk in what is believed to have been a river bed of many centuries ago. It may have dated back to the glacial period. The water now flows as a subterranean channel, finding its way more easily through the gravel than the clay or rock.

The well was sunk 156 feet when drilling ended last Friday. Drilling was through 35 feet of gravel, an excellent depth from which to draw water.

Pipe for the water mains already has been delivered and it is expected that laying of the pipe can be started next week. Sewer pipe also has been delivered and the work of laying the sewer also may be started soon by the Inland Lakes Sewer and Water Co.

Village officials were elated over the new water well because it will augment the present system to deliver a bountiful supply not only to the village but to the new Crown Realty Co. addition.

The present wells barely produce half the amount of the new one.

Duck Hunting off to Good Start But Large Flocks Expected Later

Anytime the Sequoia fans will see the best football team that the Antioch school has provided in a number of years.

Duck hunters are having a successful season in the Chain O' Lakes area according to reports.

Cold weather and storms to the north haven't sent the ducks and geese south in large amounts yet, but the cooler weather is sending some daily.

The first day brought forth the usual heavy barrage on Grass Lake by coot, or mud hen hunters.

Hunters operating from blinds in the slough areas are said to be getting satisfactory quantity of the larger species, but they say many ducks are flying over, and they get only those which are tired and thirsty and alight for a rest.

Mallards, canvas back, red heads and green wings are observed now, the blue wings having passed earlier.

Hunting will continue until the sloughs freeze, and last year that occurred at Thanksgiving time.

The Hatch estate recently purchased by the State Department of Conservation is still operated this year as it has been in the past. Blinds are on a rental basis.

Antioch Nips Glenbrook To Take Second Place; Play Bensenville Here

Last Home Game Saturday; Sophomores Lose to Glenbrook

Antioch Township High school will play its last home football game of the season Saturday night with Bensenville as the opposition for both the varsity and the sophomores.

The Cook County team with two victories and three losses has blown hot and cold this year.

"If they are hot, they will give us a good game," said Coach Kessenich.

Anyway the Sequoia fans will see the best football team that the Antioch school has provided in a number of years.

This was proved last Saturday when the Sequoia blanked Glenbrook at the Spartan field 20 to 0.

"That victory was just a case of good team play both offensively and defensively," said Coach Kessenich. "Terry selected his plays well, and he and Brownlee did some good passing."

Ben Floyd and Phil Vos were credited with good playing at end, and Bob Masopust was a tower of strength on the defense at center. John Wells continued his good ground gaining feats, averaging eight yards in seven assignments for a total of 56 yards.

Score in First Quarter

After being stopped on the Glenbrook 6-yard line early in the contest, the Sequoia drove 44 yards to their first touchdown in the middle of the first quarter, the scoring coming on a pass from Terry to Floyd.

This was repeated, but it took time in the second quarter to accomplish the second touchdown, this time on a quarterback sneak by Terry. Tom McGreal kicked both extra points.

The final touchdown came in the third period when Phil Vos raced 38 yards after catching a short pass from Terry to clinch a 55-yard drive.

One Spartan drive was stopped only after Warren Brownlee recovered an enemy fumble in the Antioch end zone late in the second period. A pass interception by Don Lawrence ended another Glenbrook drive to the 18-yard line in the fourth period.

Antioch piled up 344 yards to Glenbrook's 178 yards, from scrimmage with 189 yards rushing and 175 yards passing resulting from eight completions in 16 attempts. Glenbrook had a margin of 11 to 9 in first downs but six of them resulted from Antioch penalties.

Sophomores Lose 22-7

The Antioch sophomores didn't fare so well, taking a 28 to 7 defeat from the Glenbrook underclassmen.

Lions Will Launch "Aid To the Blind" Program

Homer La Plant, president of the Lions club of Antioch announced today that the 400 Lions clubs of Illinois will launch a state-wide "Aid to the Blind" program next month, during the Thanksgiving season.

The program will get under way with a fund-raising campaign to be spearheaded by every Illinois Lions club. Proceeds from the drive will be distributed to Leader Dogs for the Blind and the Hadley School for the Blind. Both of these organizations have already contributed greatly to the blind of the state.

Leader dogs have given more than 85 dogs to blind people in Illinois as a cost of $1200 per unit. Hadley School has trained over 1000 students in braille courses from elementary spelling to college physiology at an approximate cost of $50 per student.

The program has been organized by a State Blind Activities Committee and the State Chairman, Harry H. Semrow, of Chicago. On the committee are James L. Snyder of Chicago; Edward Douvia of Morris; James Kitchens of Belleville; Hugo Apfel of E. Dubuque; Lynn Filley of Decatur; Leighton Mangels of Palatine; Wilbur Flesner of Golden; Clyde W. West of Peoria and George Lazansky of Algonquin. All committee members are past District Governors of Lions International. The committee announced that this first program will be the forerunner of annual "Aid to the Blind Week" drives and that the Lions of Illinois will thereby establish a permanent continuing program for the aid to the blind in the state of Illinois.

Honorable Exception

One reason for the incredible cost of government is that too many of us want economy for the other fellow only—and never in matters that affect us.

But there are honorable exceptions, and they deserve recognition. A short time ago the Forest Service merged its Halley, Idaho, headquarters with that of Twin Falls in order to save $15,000 a year. It might have been expected that Halley people would howl in protest. But that wasn't the case. The Halley Times said: "Naturally we don't like to lose our Forest Service headquarters . . . but the fantastic cost of government can't be lowered without some sacrifices. Perhaps a saving of $15,000 annually looks less than a pinhead; but five such mergers made recently adds up to $75,000 annually. . . . Multiply such savings over and over again through the hundreds of branches of federal government and you begin to see some hope for a cut in taxes."

We need more—a whole lot more—of that spirit.

A Job of Selling

The head of one of our leading corporations recently advised businessmen in general to make the most of a ready market for goods. He pointed out that more Americans are employed than ever before, at the highest wages in history. He said further: "The kind of America we live in tomorrow depends primarily on the kind of job we do today. I think the future of American business can be anything we want to make it."

Commenting editorially on this point of view, the Daily Journal, International Falls, Minnesota, said: "The market and the money are there. American business can keep the country prosperous by producing a maximum volume of goods at the lowest possible cost—and then do a job of selling."

That second factor—"a job of selling"—is an enormously important one. Everyone in this country is to some extent aware of the miracles achieved by American mass production, and so are millions of people in other lands. There should be an equal awareness of the miracles of American mass distribution. The two are full and equal allies in keeping the economy going and supporting employment, wages, and living standards. Our superb production system would be of vastly diminished worth if it weren't for a comparable system capable of moving the goods into the hands of the consumers.

Thus, the job done by the retailer decides to a very great extent whether times are to be good, bad or indifferent. And here, as in other fields of free enterprise, we have been singularly blessed. Retailing is a huge industry made up of hundreds of enterprises of every conceivable kind and size, from the biggest national chain to the smallest specialty shop. And the inexorable force of competition keeps its efficiency high—even as it keeps prices as low as the conditions of the day permit.

Government Must Take First

Governor Hugh Gregg of New Hampshire recently said, "Remember this: No government, federal or state, can give you anything which it has not first taken from you."

It might seem that so undeniable a proposition would be known to anyone. But it is plain that a great many of us still cherish the illusion that government can give us all kinds of services and benefits at little or no cost to us.

Actually, of course, we get back from government much less than what it takes from us. Waste and extravagance are the great depreciators of our tax dollars.

Why Advertise?

The following is reprinted from the Wynne, Ark., Progress:

The late William Wrigley was once riding with a friend in a crack express train from New York to Chicago. His companion was curious to know why the magnate continued to spend so much money on advertising.

"Your gum is known all over the world, he said. 'Why don't you save the millions you are spending on advertising?'"

"Wrigley pondered a second and then asked, 'How fast is this train going?'"

"'About 60 miles per hour,' replied the other. 'Then,' asked Wrigley, 'why doesn't the railway company remove the engine and let the train travel on its own momentum?'"

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

The topic today is "Ruggedness." We will make our scholarly approach by saying that amongst the things that this Nation could stand more of—and lots of it—is ruggedness. We been—in spots—at the national level and at the local level, limber and hesitant and starchless. We need a 1953 Paul Revere to clatter his horse's hoofs across the land—we been far from alert. Longer week-ends, fatter pay checks, they have lulled us. Why stew about manana—be merry today—gee whiz, have fun, is in the air.

Now folks, having fun, I am not against same—I am for same. My deduction today is to do with what is gonna happen when we wake up, rub our perspiring forehead and see that we been taking too much for granted. We been patted on the back by the "welfare" folks—the well paid, useless thousands in the cozy jobs from city hall, to state capital, to the grandpappy of all, the Nation's capital.

It's fun to dance till 4 in the morning—maybe—let the dance go on if you are young and fancy and there is no lack of dinero in your jeans. But at 65, what about that—has something been gaining on you that you didn't think could happen. Sambo's cupboard is not sky high. Ruggedness ruled and has paid dividends since Plymouth Rock. Grandpa was no push-over.

Yours with the low-down,
JO SERRA

Suds Preserve Sweater Beauty

The beauty of the classic sweater lies in its smooth fit and its appealing color—or its snowy whiteness. And the best way to preserve that beauty is by sudsing it often.

For wool, it's lukewarm soapsuds—two washings—and lukewarm rinsing. Cup the sweater in the hands and squeeze the suds through; never twist or wring it. Rub extra suds into soiled spots, using a soapy soft brush or well-lathered fingers on bindings and ribbed areas. Blot out excess moisture by rolling in a towel. To hasten drying, you may first spread the sweater between two towels and roll it with a rolling pin—or wrap it in a towel and put it loosely through the washing machine wringer.

An easy blocking method is to use a homemade cardboard drying frame—tracing the sweater outline on the cardboard while the sweater is dry. Then cut the cardboard frame into three pieces—two sleeves and the body—and slide them in. Lay the sweater flat to dry, away from direct heat.

Nylon, Orlon, Dacron, and cotton sweaters can take hotter suds, need no drying frames. Just shape them gently with the hands while they're damp. They'll spring right back to their original shape and fit.

Antioch - Glenbrook....

the Bensenville sophomores should be more even, he believes.

By winning at Glenbrook Antioch ascended to second place in the conference standing. There is a possible chance for a conference victory or tie, but Grant would have to beat the league leaders, Elia-Vernon, and Grayslake would have to tie them while the Sequoias win both of their remaining games.

The conference standing is as follows:

Northwest Conference

	W	L	T	P	Op.
Elia-Vernon	5	0	0	79	19
Antioch	3	1	1	77	32
Wauconda	3	2	0	68	39
Glenbrook	3	2	0	44	39
Bensenville	2	3	0	69	66
Palatine	2	3	0	65	32
Grant	1	3	1	38	105
Grayslake	0	5	0	25	104

Phil Vos and Bill Terry of Antioch are tied with Bob Boyd of Bensenville, Dan Prouty of Elia, and Gene-Jachet of Wauconda for tenth place in conference scoring with two touchdowns each. Antioch's 77 points are divided among ten men, showing a team action rather than the play of outstanding stars.

Decorating of Office Next

The new business office for the village in which a full time clerk will be stationed is completed with the exception of the decorating. This should be finished this week and Clerk Clarence Shultis should be able to establish his office there Monday.

Herman THE HEADSTRONG HOG

"This road," grunts he, "in spite of the fact that I was built exclusively for me. How dare you try to pass me by? I own this road... It's mine, say it!"

This headstrong hog, without a thought, left other drivers limp, distraught. He wouldn't yield, this juggernaut: His last week's pay a tombstone bought.

Moral for Safe Drivers: Think of your actions in relation to other drivers... don't try to hog the road. Remember courtesy and safety go together.

Toby THE TAKE-HIS-TIME-TURTLE

He has the gall to creep and crawl
Until his car's about to stall;
They try to pass, they hit the gas
And they, or Toby'll rest under grass.
You've seen him oft, the dreamy
mope,
He drags the road — he's sure a dope;
You hank your horn, he'll move —
you hope
But he won't stir — it's just,
"No soap!"

SAFE CARE AND STORAGE OF LADDERS Helps You Stay Safe Aloft

All ladders whether purchased, borrowed, or rented should be inspected and defects repaired before each use. Look for splinters, dry rot; loose rungs and metal parts. Watch for loose nails and braces on step ladders. Painting of ladders is not recommended.
As a preservative, use clear lacquer, varnish, or linseed oil instead.

Clean ladder after each use. Remove paint or oil splashes.

Store all ladders in a dry place away from excessive heat. Hang extension ladders horizontally on firm supports.

Set Rug Trend

Queen Elizabeth of England is credited with having put the rug in its place. By the queen's order, a large rug was spread over rushes on the floor of her throne room, according to historical researchers of Johnson's wax. Bumpy as the surface must have been, it set a fashion that endured, although the polished floor has now supplanted the rushes.

Fruit Bread

Raisins or currants used for making bread and cake do not sink so readily to the bottom of the bread or cake if they are heated over a slow fire or in a low oven temperature before mixing in with other ingredients.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State

If you haven't already prepared your car for winter driving conditions, now is the time to do it. Minor defects that won't normally cause you any difficulty in mild weather can stall your car completely when the temperature drops below freezing.

Things like dirty spark plugs, faulty points, a battery that's not up to par, leaky hoses in the cooling system can put your car completely out of action on a cold morning. And it's a discouraging experience to step into your car in the morning with the temperature near zero and find that the battery won't turn the motor over or to run the battery down trying to make a faulty ignition system get the motor going.

Make sure, too, your brakes are pulling equally. It is dangerous enough on dry pavement to try to operate a car whose brakes pull to one side, but on the ice and snow conditions you will encounter during winter, that defect could cause you to skid and lose control of your car completely.

Winter is hard on a car in the best of condition and the driving circumstances are hard on the driver. Don't handicap yourself by trying to operate a car that increases your possibilities of having an accident.
